New Jersey Laws of Arrest, Search & Seizure Case Law Review & 2012 Update

Earn
13.6
CLE CREDITS
(Attorneys)

Created and presented by Larry E. Holtz, Esq., this two-day, highly-acclaimed program will update police officials and attorneys in the recent developments and changes in the laws of arrest, investigative detentions (including “stop & frisk” and motor vehicle stops), search warrants, and the exceptions to the written warrant requirement. The seminar will focus on the court decisions which have been recently handed down by the United States Supreme Court, the NJ Supreme Court, and the various panels of the Appellate Division.

New Jersey officials have voted this class the most important course of the year. In addition to providing a comprehensive update of new material, the seminar will simultaneously serve as a comprehensive refresher for those persons who have not had an opportunity to attend an arrest, search and seizure review and update for a number of years. All attendees will receive a comprehensive written manual containing the new cases, rules and procedures presented. Persons preparing for promotional exam will find this course, without question, one of the most important parts of their preparation! For New Jersey attorneys, the Board on CLE has approved this two-day course for 13.6 NJCLE credits (50 minute hour), all of which qualify as hours of credit toward Criminal Trial Certification.
